* GE hires qualified applicants who are fully authorized to work in the U.S. — i.e., authorized to work without any time- or employer-related restrictions. People with temporary work authorizations, such as students in practical training status (i.e., F1 visa), will be considered only for jobs where GE is experiencing a demonstrated shortage of candidates with a particular skill. GE cannot hire students from controlled countries and/or those who require export licensing.

 In order to satisfy requirements by the U.S. Department of Labor and the Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs (OFCCP), you must complete GE's online application to be considered for employment. Unrestricted U.S. work authorization required for U.S. employment opportunities unless otherwise specified in position description.
